

Information Notice

This Information Notice contains important information about the processing of the personal information contained in this Injection Declaration Form related to the 3rd Summer Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018, including information about:

1. Information collected about the Athlete and the Practitioner
2. Entities involved in the process
3. Use of the collected Information
4. Rights of the Athlete and the Practitioners

Please read this Information Notice carefully and make sure you understand what it says.

1. Information collected about the Athlete and the Practitioner

In accordance with the IOC Needle Policy and Rules for the 3rd Summer Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018 (respectively the “Needle Policy and Rules” and the “Buenos Aires 2018”), Injection Declaration Forms shall be completed whenever an Athlete receives an injection during the period of Buenos Aires 2018.

Information collected and otherwise processed in connection with the Needle Policy and Rules (the “Information”), includes the following:

- Athlete’s personal information related to his/her identity (name, date of birth, gender, national Olympic committee’s membership, sport);
- Athlete’s medical information, including clinical history and diagnosis;
- Personal information of the person having administered the injection (the “Practitioner”) related to his/her identity (name, mobile number, e-mail address).

Information may constitute “personal data” and, in certain instances “sensitive data” or “special categories of personal data” as such terms are defined under applicable data protection or privacy laws.

2. Entities involved in the process

The Needle Policy and Rules are managed and carried out under the responsibility of the International Olympic Committee (the “IOC”), in accordance with the Needle Policy and Rules.

In accordance with the Authorised Purposes (as defined hereunder), this Injection Declaration Form may also be used for the purposes of ensuring the compliance with the IOC Anti-Doping Rules applicable to Buenos Aires 2018 (the “Anti-Doping Rules”). Doping controls at the occasion of Buenos Aires 2018 are carried out under the responsibility of the IOC acting as an Anti-Doping Organization, in accordance with the Anti-Doping Rules and the World Anti-Doping Code including the related international standards (the “Code”).

For the effective operation of doping controls at the occasion of Buenos Aires 2018, the IOC has delegated certain of its responsibilities related to the implementation of the anti-doping programme in relation to Buenos Aires 2018 to the International Testing Agency (“ITA”), as set out in the Anti-Doping Rules. The ITA will in particular initiate and undertake testing activities at the occasion of the YOG, determine whether or not a potential anti-doping rule violation has occurred pursuant to the Rules, and if so, file the case with the Court of Arbitration for Sport (“CAS”) for decision. The ITA will be assisted by the Buenos Aires 2018 Organising Committee for the Youth Olympic Games (“BAYOGOC”), acting through the Argentine Olympic Committee and the City of Buenos Aires. The IOC, the ITA and/or these above-mentioned entities will also cooperate with the World Anti-Doping Agency (“WADA”), whose mission is to monitor the implementation of the Code and will use the ADAMS data-management system developed by WADA to process and manage doping controls related information (“ADAMS”). The IOC, the ITA and the above-mentioned entities will use the services of laboratories and other service providers, working on their behalf and providing them certain anti-doping services, information technology services or other services that are necessary to perform doping controls.

3. Use of the collected Information

a) Purposes of processing Information

Information will be processed by:

- i. the IOC for the purposes of ensuring the compliance with the Needle Policy and Rules;
- ii. the IOC, the ITA and the above-mentioned entities for the purposes of ensuring the integrity of the competitions at the Buenos Aires 2018, carrying out doping controls, investigating and prosecuting breaches of the Anti-Doping Rules and the Code or for otherwise establishing, exercising or defending legal rights or complying with legal obligations related thereto

(collectively referred to as the “Authorised Purposes”).

b) Grounds for processing Information

Doping controls and the processing of Information for the Authorised Purposes are necessary to safeguard the health and well-being of athletes and to ensure the integrity of sports competitions at the Buenos Aires 2018, and are further based on:

- i. The acceptance by Athletes and other participants registering to the Games of the provisions applicable to their participation in the Buenos Aires 2018, including the Olympic Charter, the Anti-Doping Rules and the Code, their undertaking to comply with these provisions and the authorization granted to the IOC to process personal information about them in all manners necessary for the purposes of investigation and/or prosecution of breaches of any of these provisions;

- ii. The substantial public interest and the interest of the IOC, the ITA and BAYOGOC, to guarantee doping-free sports competitions at the Buenos Aires 2018, to safeguard the health and well-being of athletes and to protect clean athletes;
- iii. Necessity in view of allowing the participation of athletes and other participants to the YOG in compliance with the obligations of the IOC as Anti-Doping Organization and major event organizations under the Code;
- iv. Applicable legal provisions acknowledging the substantial public interest and authorising the processing of athletes’ and Practitioners’ personal information for the purposes of fighting against doping.

c) Data recipients and international transfer

The IOC and/or the ITA may disclose Information to the entities mentioned in section 2 above where necessary for the Authorised Purposes. In accordance with the Anti-Doping Rules and the Code, Information may also be shared with other authorized recipients such as designated national anti-doping organizations, international federations, CAS, law enforcement authorities. Data recipients may be located outside Argentina, including in Switzerland and Canada or in some other countries, where data protection and privacy laws may not be equivalent to those applicable in Athletes’ country of residence.

d) Public disclosure

In accordance with the Anti-Doping Rules and while Information will normally be processed in a confidential manner, Athletes’ identity and some other Information may be publicly disclosed in cases where the ITA asserts that an athlete has committed an anti-doping rule violation, after appropriate notice has been provided to the concerned athlete. Information may also be disclosed to third parties in any event where such disclosure (a) is required by law, regulation or compulsory legal process, (b) takes place with the informed, express and written consent of the Athlete, or (c) is necessary to assist law enforcement or governmental or other authorities in the detection, investigation or prosecution of a criminal offence or breach of the Code, provided that the Information is reasonably relevant to the offence in question and cannot otherwise reasonably be obtained by the authorities.

e) Data retention period

The different retention periods applicable to Information are specified in the Annex A of the International Standard on Protection of Privacy and Personal Information, forming part of the Code. According to this document, Information may be retained over time by the ITA, the IOC and WADA, including for some data, for a period up to 10 years or indefinitely.

f) Information security

The IOC and the ITA will use technical and organisational measures to protect the Information against the risks of damage, destruction, loss or unauthorised access, in accordance with applicable laws.

4. Rights of the Athletes and Practitioners

Athletes and Practitioners have the right to request the IOC and the ITA to access, rectify or delete Information or to withdraw their consent to the processing of their Information. Insofar as consent is a basis for the processing of Information, Athletes and Practitioners are informed that it may still be necessary to process Information related to them for the Authorised Purposes, in particular regarding doping controls, even without their consent, or after such consent has been withdrawn, provided that such activity complies with applicable laws.

Both the IOC and the ITA have designated a person in charge of receiving Athletes’ and/or Practitioners’ complaints or questions in relation to the processing of Information. In case Athletes or Practitioners believe that the processing of their Information is not complying with the provisions applicable thereto, such Athlete or Practitioner can address a complaint to:

- i. IOC’s Data Protection Officer at the following address: privacy@olympic.org and for EU residents, any IOC’s EU representative as indicated in IOC’s privacy policy (<https://www.olympic.org/privacy-policy>);
- ii. the ITA at the following address: privacy@ita.sport.

The complaint will be handled with competent persons within these entities, so that they can take position on the complaint in writing within 30 days, or within a shorter timeline, as necessary due to specific circumstances. In the event that a complaint cannot be satisfactorily resolved after this aforementioned timeline, the concerned athlete can notify WADA and/or submit a complaint to CAS, which will determine whether a violation occurred. As Swiss organisations, both the IOC and the ITA are under the jurisdiction of the Swiss Federal Data Protection Commissioner, Feldeggweg 1, CH – 3003 Bern, Switzerland, <https://www.edoeb.admin.ch/>.
